

DECIDE GOMPERS IS NOT GUILTY

Investigating Committee Completely Exonerates President of Unions of All Charges.

THE ACCUSERS FAIL

Are Unable to Prove Any of Their Charges Against the Big Labor Leader.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
New Orleans, Nov. 20.—President Gompers of the Federation of Labor has been completely vindicated of all of the charges that were brought against him by the investigating committee.

The testimony of one of the witnesses, Shaffer, testified that he had never doubted the unionism of Gompers nor had he impugned it in the least. The only trouble he had ever had with him was personal.

Just A Fuss
In fact it was only a fuss in which each man called the other a liar, Shaffer was the chief witness of the prosecution. The report covered seven pages of typewritten copy.

STATE OFFICERS HOLD MEETING

They Convene in Madison and Plan Their State for the Coming Term.

(Special To The Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., Nov. 20.—Only two of the state officers-elect, J. Kempf of Milwaukee and John W. Thomas of Chippewa Falls have arrived today for the conference at which it is expected to settle the distribution of patronage among the departments. The others are expected this evening and the conference at which it is expected to settle the distribution of patronage among the departments.

Report is that the only matters practically settled are that Judge McCroft is to be the first assistant attorney general, W. A. Richter to have a good place in the treasurer's office, and D. W. Johnston to be state printing clerk.
John M. Nelson, now in the treasurer's office where he has been reported as sure of a berth, says today that he does not want one, but will begin practicing law in January. Hy P. Schmidt, present assistant secretary of state, appears to be in the lead for chief clerkship of the senate, while Railroad Commissioner Graham L. Rice has good assurance of support for sergeant-at-arms.

MME. BERNHARDT RECEIVES OVATION

The Reappearance of the Actress in Paris Causes Great Rejoicing.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Paris, Nov. 20.—The re-appearance of Sarah Bernhardt in "Fedora" was a triumph. She was recalled three or four times after each act. The Parisians feted the return of their favorite actress. Mademoiselle Dolly was amusing. Her gaiety was natural. Magnier possesses the artificial warmth his role requires.

GERMANY PRAISES OSCAR'S DECISION

Berlin Papers Like the Way the Samoan Difficulty Was Decided.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Berlin, Nov. 20.—The Lokal Anzeiger, commenting in the decision of King Oscar in the Samoan arbitration, the text of which has been made public recently, says:
The decision is a splendid justification of the behavior of Germany's representatives in Samoa in 1899 toward American and English intervention. Germany's standpoint, that armed intervention without the assent of the German consul could not be recognized as justifiable, is expressly indorsed, and the rejoinder of England and the United States that this assent was unjustly withheld is rejected.

HONORS FOR A NEW BELOIT PROFESSOR

Recently Appointed Director of Musical Department Given Important Appointment.

Prof. Abram Ray Tyler, the new musical director of Beloit college has received a signal honor from the American Guild of Organists, of which organization he is a member, and for many years has acted as secretary. He has been appointed the official representative of the guild for this section of the west, embracing a large district, extending as far east as Milwaukee. He will now act as one of the members of the examining board to judge the qualifications of applicants for membership.

VICTORY AFTER HEAVY LOSSES

British Raze Fort on the Afghan Frontier That Was Held by Six Men.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Simla, Nov. 20.—Colonel Tonnechy, commanding the south column of the British expedition engaged in putting down the uprising of the Waziri tribesmen on the Afghan frontier, found a strong tower at Gumatti, held by six outlaws, who refused to surrender. The shells from the British guns made little impression on the fort until evening, when the tower was stormed and all of its defenders were killed. The British losses were comparatively heavy. Colonel Tonnechy and Captain G. White of the Third Sikhs were killed while leading the storming party. Captains Davies and Houston and Lieutenant Alty, with eight of the native troops were wounded. The tower was razed.
General Eckerton arrived at Shiwa yesterday and captured the head man and several of the villages. Colonel McLae, commanding the first column, signalled from Spinwan on Monday night that he had surprised and captured the village and had taken 250 prisoners. Some munitions also fell into the hands of the first column.

INSURGENT LEADERS SIGN PACT IN BLOOD

Murder a Native Who Refuses to Be Branded and Compels With Grievous Conditions.

Washington, Nov. 20.—A gruesome paper which reveals some of the methods resorted to by insurgent leaders in the Philippines has reached Adjutant General Corbin. It is the record of the trial of Pascual Pasis, an insurgent officer, and four others, for the murder of a native who refused to submit to the "branding" operation and sign the secret pact with his blood. The pact, translated, reads: "We, understanding all that the regulations of the K K K explain, swear in the name of God and on our lives that we will comply cheerfully till the last drop of our blood to defend this our native country; also, that in any case we commit things contrary to the regulations of the K, we shall expect cheerfully to be punished as we deserve, even should it be by death, and in order to give faith to these statements we sign this with our blood which flows from our breast."
Bulacan, April 27, 1900. It was shown at the trial that Pasis, with his comrades, went about the country seeking members for the Katipunan, the dread secret order of the insurgents. Natives were forced to sign the documents after first being branded on the right breast with the mouth of a hot bottle. The blood for the signature was drawn from the left breast by a cross cut with a dagger belonging to Pasis.

PRESIDENT'S CAR AT CHATTANOOGA

Is Met at Depot by Committee on His Return from Bear Hunt.

WAIVED AT CROWD

The General Belief is That the Hunt Was Planned for the Purposes of Policy.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Chattanooga, Nov. 20.—President Roosevelt and his special train arrived here at ten this morning and the President was met by a committee of prominent citizens and escorted over the city.

Greets Villagers
At Stevenson this morning the President appeared on the back platform of the train in a dressing gown and stocking feet and waved his hand at the assembled crowd.

After Panama Commission
The general belief is that Stuyvesant Fish asked the President for the bear hunt in the hopes of capturing the Panama canal commissioners for a friend of his from the South.

ELECTRIC ROAD FOR PORTO RICO

American Company Will Build One Across the Island from Ponce to San Juan.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
San Juan, Porto Rico, Nov. 20.—William Yeager, representing the Vanderbilt Construction company of Philadelphia, has asked for a franchise for the construction of an electric road from Ponce to San Juan. The estimated cost of the construction of the road is $2,800,000.
The executive council is not confident that such an enterprise would be a commercial success and will demand a bond of between $150,000 and $200,000 from any concern that may secure the franchise. There are a number of applicants for the concession.

HORSE MEAT IS NOW VERY CHEAP

German Meat Famine Is Gradually Breaking, and Prices Are Lower.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Berlin, Nov. 20.—Quotations here for fat 600-pound horses for slaughter have fallen from $37.50 and $40 to $25, and for fair to middling and lean from $25 to $18.75 to $20, in consequence of the exposure of the large quantities of horse meat sold as beef or used for making sausage. The extraordinary high prices of meat having caused extensive evasions of the law. While the German frontiers are closed to the importation of live cattle the prohibition does not apply to old broken-down horses, which are brought by ship loads from England, especially to Hamburg and Bremen, and are fattened for butchering.

THREE SLAYERS ARE EXECUTED

Mexicans Who Robbed and Killed an Englishman, Are Shot to Death.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
City of Mexico, Nov. 20.—On the spot where they murdered Robert Remmet, an Englishman, the manager of a mine, three Mexicans were today shot to death. Nine accomplices were sent to prison for long terms.
On June, 1901, this band entered the house of Remmet, near Zacualpan, and after robbing him of money and jewels shot him in the presence of his wife.

REPORT ON LIFE SAVING WORK

United States Coast Guard Service Has Rescued Many Persons in the Last Year.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—The life saving service report for 1902 shows that the number of disasters to vessels within the scope of the service during the last year was greater than ever before, with the exception of the years 1898 and 1901, yet the loss of life was small. The number of lives lost from documented vessels was only nineteen, while six were lost from smaller craft. Fifty-four vessels of over 1,000 tons burden of which number thirty-three were steamers, suffered disaster. The loss of property was comparatively light. The number of disasters to documented vessels was 385. On board these vessels were 3,248 persons, of whom nineteen were lost. The estimated value of the vessels was $9,253,630 and that of their cargoes $5,139,280, making the total amount of the property involved $14,392,910. Of this amount $12,125,220 was saved and $2,267,790 lost. This number of vessels totally lost was fifty-one. There were 361 casualties to undocumented craft, carrying 796 persons, six of whom perished.
The net expenditure for the maintenance of the service during the year was $1,651,392. New stations were completed at South Manitou and Sleeping Bear Point, Mich.

VICTORY COMES TO MARCONI

He Receives a Message from Poldem at Sydney Harbor Yesterday.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Halifax, N. S., Nov. 20.—Transatlantic communication by wireless telegraphy is now practically established. It was reported this morning that Marconi had received a wireless message from Poldem at Table Island.

The Carlo Alberto, gayly decorated with flags and bunting seemed to confirm this report, and this was not long before people were discussing the matter on the streets.
A newspaper correspondent rang up Mr. Vyvyan at Table Head station and asked for a denial or confirmation of the statement. Mr. Vyvyan turned to Mr. Marconi and repeated the message he had received.
Marconi is Reluctant
A few minutes later Mr. Vyvyan returned to the telephone and stated that Marconi would say nothing about the report that a wireless message was received in Sydney harbor on the Carlo Alberto from the Cornwall station. "In fact," he said, "the vessel was in communication with the Cornwall station during the entire trip."

Message From Poldem
Sydney, C. B., Nov. 20.—Signor Marconi last night confirmed the report that he cruiser Carlo Alberto had been in constant communication by wireless telegraphy with the Marconi station at Poldem, Cornwall, on her voyage across the Atlantic, and that a message had been received by him on board the Carlo Alberto while the cruiser lay in Sydney harbor.

AMERICA LOSES LOYAL FRIEND

A Granddaughter of La Fayette Dies at Her Home in Paris.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Paris, Nov. 20.—The Marquise de Chamburn died yesterday. She was the last granddaughter of Lafayette, and her life was notable for her constancy in maintaining the family's cordial feeling for America.
Her eldest son, the Marquis de Chamburn, who is a member of the chamber of deputies, becomes the ranking representative of the Lafayette family. He was formerly counselor of the French embassy at Washington and married a daughter of Mrs. Bellamy Storer.
The second son of the deceased marquise also has an American wife. Her third son represented the Lafayette family at the recent Rochambeau exercises at Washington, and her only daughter is the wife of Count Savorgnan de Brazza, the explorer of the Congo.

QUESTION IN NOT YET SETTLED

Attorney General-Elect May Decide That the Women Have Not Voted Legally.

(Special To The Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., Nov. 20.—In the opinion of Attorney General-Elect Studvant it is a close question whether the adoption of the constitutional amendment relative to the office of State Superintendent of Instruction is legal, owing to the fact that women voted for it. "It is a question which will probably have to be tried by the supreme court," he said today, "the constitution as amended permit women to vote of questions pertaining to school matters."
Provisions of the present amendment is that the legislature shall fix the compensation of the superintendent.

The legality of its adoption, in my opinion, hinges on the question whether this provision can be construed as pertaining to school matters.

The ants of South America have been known to construct a tunnel three miles long.

ROBERTS TELLS OF MINE LIFE

Is Chief Witness Before the Strike Commission at Their Session Today.

LONG DRAWN OUT

Five Days Taken in Bringing Out Facts as to the Union and Its Methods.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Seranton, Nov. 20.—Rev. Roberts was again examined this morning and the principal evidence was the showing the condition of the miners and their home life and ability to earn money.

Much testimony has been taken on this subject and Mr. Roberts showed in detail the life of the miners and their homes and ability to care for their families.

May Be Immaterial
While the greater part of the testimony for the past five days has been on this subject and the operators have tried to prove their claims it is thought that it will be thrown out as immaterial by their attorneys.

REJECTED SUITOR ENDS HIS LIFE

Boston Man Takes Poison in the Presence of the Woman He Loves.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
New York, Nov. 20.—William C. Mahoney, 23 years old, said to be a member of a wealthy Boston family, and a graduate of Harvard, has committed suicide in this city because a woman who had refused to marry him, and had caused his arrest twice recently for persisting in his attentions, had declared her purpose of marrying another. The woman, whose home is said to be in Paris, was employed in this city as a designer. Mahoney called upon her, entered a violent protest against her intended marriage and then poisoned himself in her presence.

GERMANS OBSERVE DAY OF PENITENCE

All Work Has Ceased for Twenty-Four Hours, and No Festivities Run.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Berlin, Nov. 20.—This is the national day of penitence and prayer here. The Germans, who are liberal the rest of the year, today close all their theaters and forbid any kind of public amusement. It is even considered out of place to play anything but sacred music in the private houses. The Royal Opera last night rendered Cherubini's requiem, "The Last Supper," and the music of "Parsifal." The morning papers, which ceased typesetting at midnight, published serious articles adapted to the day. No evening paper was issued today, and no morning papers will be published tomorrow, because it would require work today.

VANDALS ARE ON FOOT IN BERLIN

Parts of the Sieges Allee Statues Are Broken Off by Miscreants.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Berlin, Nov. 20.—Vandals have again broken off parts of five of the statues on the Sieges Allee, the historical series erected by Emperor William at his personal expense. The statues themselves were not harmed, as they stood out of reach of the depredator, but pieces of the decoration of the bases were broken, apparently by hammer blows. A previous mutilation occurred in 1899, and though a large reward was offered the culprit was never caught. The perpetrator of the present outrage has not been traced.

Believes in Coeducation.
Mme. Loubet, wife of the French president, believes in coeducation. At a recent meeting of a society of French mothers she brought down upon her head severe criticism in advocating American methods in training girls.

LONDON IS NOW AMPLY PROTECTED

Extensive Plans of Fortifications Are Under Way, and a Mobilizing Center Made Ready.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
London, Nov. 20.—Efforts of a far-reaching character have been set on foot to fortify the metropolis against a possible attack in case of war, from which, judging from statements made tonight, it has hitherto been quite inadequately protected.
An announcement to the effect that extensive buildings have been completed at Wollingham, Surrey, eleven miles south of London, for use as a mobilizing center in the scheme for the defense of London, reveals for the first time the existence of important war office operations.
It is stated that when Lord Roberts took over his post of Commander in Chief of the British Army, he personally investigated the defenses of London and found them very imperfect.
Since then powerful batteries have been mounted on elevations commanding the principal roads between London and the south coast.
New fortifications are being rapidly constructed along the banks of the Thames, and Wollingham has been fitted up as a center for mobilization.

FASTS FORTY DAYS, DIES OF STARVATION

Woman Victim of "Cure" for Disease Discloses Many Followers of Peculiar Fad.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 20.—Following the death of Mrs. Gertrude Young after a fast of forty days, Coroner Williams decided to bring to the attention of the county attorney, with a view of prosecution, a cult which has lately gained a number of converts in Minneapolis and the chief theory of which is that cures for many ills lie in total abstinence from food.
Dr. Linda Russell Perry, who admits she has no license to practice medicine, introduced the sad here. Much publicity has attached to cures reported to have been effected by her by directing the fasts of patients extending over periods ranging from twenty-five to thirty-five days.
Mrs. Young, 41 years old and weighing 135 pounds, was finally induced to try the treatment. She fasted forty days and then died. The body weighed 105 pounds. A post mortem examination revealed that death was due to starvation.
Dr. Perry attributes Mrs. Young's death to an abnormal condition of the heart. Discussing her right to practice, she said: "I have no license to kill."

ABOUT THE STATE

The state board of control have sent out specifications for bids for the fruit and vegetables to be furnished for the nine state institutions this winter.
For the first time in the history of Milwaukee the health department will enforce compulsory vaccination on today.

Within the last two days three boys and one man have been reported missing at the Milwaukee central police station.

Miss Catherine Daly of Milwaukee was so affected by the idea of a coming operation which she was to undergo that she wandered away from home in night clothes, and died from pneumonia contracted by the exposure.
Milwaukee hunters near Mercer shot five deer during the past week.
Harry Hart, a Beloit drayman, narrowly escaped death by being caught between switching cars. His horses were both killed.

Rev. J. Linnevald of Edgerton has been called to assume the pastorate of the Norwegian Lutheran church at La Crosse, to succeed A. K. Sagen. John Kennedy, who broke into P. Newburgh's clothing store and caught in the act, at La Crosse, was sentenced to one and a half years in state's prison.

It has been learned that forty-two Polish emigrants are living in a single house in Racine, and the police will be asked to break up the settlement.
William H. Wiedemeyer, of Eau Claire, while seated upon a bed in which lay his wife, fired a bullet into his brain. A petty quarrel is said to have been the cause.

Emmett Christ of Orange was the first person to be incarcerated in the new county jail at Grantsburg, being arrested on a charge of whipping his father-in-law.

At a meeting of the board of public works at Neenah the chairman criticized the action of the war department in ordering the city to build a new settling basin.

Sixty-five prairie chickens, unlawfully shipped, were seized by Deputy Game Warden Brown at Grand Rapids.

Elmer Cook, a drill boy at the Osceola mine, was killed. He came from England to help support his parents.

General Edward S. Bragg, late consul general at Havana, arrived at Fond du Lac from Washington last evening. He will remain at his home for a brief rest before he starts for Hong Kong.

Joseph Beck, of Menominee, the self-confessed murderer of Julia Wozniak, ten years old, was sentenced to life imprisonment at hard labor.
Mrs. Andrew Anderson died at Pine Grove, not far from Stevens Point, as the result of injuries said to have been received in a quarrel with her husband.

SYMPATHY FOR POOR MULES

The Indiana Miners Secure Their Demands as to the Treatment of Dumb Animals.

NOVEL SITUATION

Operators Concede All Demands Asked for by the Indignant Protectors of Beasts.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Washington, Ind., Nov. 20.—The mules have won the sympathetic strike which promised to tie up the mines in the vicinity. From now on they will be properly cared for and work has been resumed.

A Sympathetic Move
The strike was caused by the action of the operators in abusing the mules used in the mines and not properly caring for them. This the miners objected to and walked out until the matter was adjusted.

Feed And Water
This morning the operators decided to accept the men's demands and the mules will be fed and watered before they are taken into the mines for work and they will also be cared for there.

REPORT MADE ON PHILIPPINE TRADE

Import and Export Records for the Year Ending in June, Shows Improvement.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—The import and export trade figures of the Philippines for the year ending June 30, 1902, shows a continuance of the improvement in trade that has prevailed since the inception of United States control. During the year there was imported merchandise, exclusive of gold and silver, to the value of $22,141,842, an increase of nearly $2,000,000, breaking all records.
The export figures in the fiscal year were larger, with but two exceptions, 1870 and 1889, than in any year in its history. The last fiscal year shows an increase over 1901, $23,927,679 worth of merchandise being exported, of which the United Kingdom and the United States received nearly $16,000,000, in practically equal proportions. The re-exportation of hemp to this country for the last year coming from the United Kingdom places the United States far in advance as the leading market for the Philippine products.

AGED MAN IS HEIR TO ESTATE

At Seventy-Two He Will Inherit $15,000,000 in Very Valuable Property.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Boston, Mass., Nov. 20.—Julius Brenner of Meriden, Conn., 72 years old, is heir to an estate valued at $15,000,000, situated at Tahiti, South Sea Islands. For a long time the estate has been seeking an heir. The Meriden man's uncle, George Brenner, born in Bavaria, Germany, settled in Tahiti and left a great property.

MILLIONAIRES PLAN FINE SUMMER RESORT

New York and Pennsylvania Capitalists Propose to Establish Exclusive Hot Weather Refuge.

New York, Nov. 20.—George J. Gould, Henry C. Frick, and other capitalists in this city, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh propose establishing a new and exclusive summer resort on Two Mile Beach island, which is three miles north of Cape May City on the New Jersey coast. The state riparian board will meet in Jersey City, and the syndicate behind the project will apply for riparian rights in seven and one-half miles of water front surrounding Two Mile Beach. It is confidently expected that the commission will grant the syndicate's application, and the work of transforming the island to a resort will be begun at once. An artificial harbor will be made for the use of private yachts; boulevards and avenues will be laid out, and system of drainage established. The cost of erecting hotels and making other improvements is estimated at $2,000,000. Cottages, each costing from $15,000 to $40,000, will be built. The island has an ocean and inlet frontage of three miles, to the west, inland, lies Jarvis sound. The official name of the syndicate is the Ocean Villa Land Company.

Necessity, Not Inclination.
"You sell ladies hats here?" began the sour-looking man. "Certainly," replied the milliner, repressing a smile. "You want to buy one for your wife?" "No; I don't, but it looks as if I'd have to."—Philadelphia Press.

TOBACCO PRICES ARE WAY UP

LATE BUYERS FIND THEY HAVE LITTLE CHOICE.

WARNINGS TO THE GROWERS

Care Should Be Taken in Handling the Leaf and Preparing the Binders.

There is still activity in the local leaf market. The buyers are doing some riding and are picking up any good crops that they may come across, that can be purchased at a reasonable figure.

There is a prospect that the entire crop will be absorbed before the riding ceases. A great many buyers have appeared in the market of late, who held off from the early rush in hopes that a reaction would set in and that they could get the goods at a lower figure. They have now found out that they were mistaken in this and as a last resort are picking up the good crops that were left by the early buyers. The prices are well maintained and range from seven and a half to nine cents. Some of the buyers complain that the farmers are holding their crops at too stiff a figure and ask as much for the poor crops as was paid for most of the good ones earlier in the season. With the prices in proportion with the goods the farmers have to offer there would be no trouble of their disposing of their crops. A number of local packers have sold out their contracts to outside packers who came into the market to secure what they were after.

Packers have an axiom that tobacco ought not to be taken from the sheds until after the first hard freeze. There is no good reason why this should be so if the tobacco is thoroughly cured out, stem and all. If this is so the tobacco can be taken down anytime when it is in case.

The idea of the first freeze is that it will make fat stems of all unneeded tobacco, so that when the stripping takes place there is no danger of any portion of the frozen being muddled with the merchantable tobacco. In regard to taking down tobacco early the circular issued by the Janesville Leaf Tobacco Dealers' association contains much good advice for the grower.

The 1902 crop has been contracted at remunerative prices to the producer. Before bundling for delivery, farmers should read their contracts carefully, and reciprocate by exercising great care in fulfilling contracts. Conditions of the weather during curing season caused some shed-burn and mouldy tobacco; such goods are damaged and unmerchantable.

Only the very earliest and best matured crops will do to bundle earlier than January 1st. Tobacco lowered from the poles early in the season will heat in the pile, rot and stain leaves coming in contact with green stalks, is liable to heat, and damage in bundle.

Do not allow this crop to become highly cased and saturated with moisture before taking down. Do not sprinkle or spray your tobacco. This is a dangerous practice and tobacco thus treated is unmerchantable.

Tobacco should be soft and pliable when banded. Do not allow your tobacco to become extremely dry or extremely moist.

Make bundles that will weigh forty pounds. Lap so the goods will not pull apart in transportation. Use the best tobacco paper obtainable for bundling.

Fillers that are merchantable, and sell on the markets of the world, are free from trash and worthless leaves. We cannot sell trashy, ground leaves, shed-burn and mouldy fillers. Every grower is urged and cautioned to co-operate with dealers in maintaining a standard of good Wisconsin fillers. Nothing but sweet tobacco, filled with aroma of matured sound goods will make fillers.

We call special attention to the word "cash". Curly ground leaves, shed-burn, mouldy and muddy leaves are thus classified. If banded separate from good tobacco it will bring market price; if mixed with sound tobacco you violate contract and reduce value.

Great care should be exercised by both grower and dealer in handling the 1902 crop. The leaf is delicate in texture, and unless treated with skill and good workmanship, great disappointment will result.

The general leaf market has improved vastly during the past week. It is a strange coincidence that whenever there is a slump in Wall street business begins to boom up in Water street. When Wall street went to pieces during the panic of 1893, Water street passed through one of its most prosperous periods, and it has been ever since the same, namely, when the stock of the gamblers went down, the stock in the tobacco market rose. As a matter of fact, cigar leaf is a much safer investment now than any Wall street stock, the sport of gamblers. There is no water in cigar leaf stock, for it is not sufficient for the rising demands of the cigar industry. Our manufacturers seem to realize this condition now, for they are beginning to buy more freely, though they still persistently haggle about the price. Quite a goodly quantity of domestic leaf of all grades and types was disposed of, even if single transactions were not of such prominence as to cause special comment. The Sumatra market continues also in a most active condition. Sales of good sized lots are of daily occurrence, and the Sumatra Importers are the most contented lot in the street. The activity in the Havana market is likewise satisfactory. Old Remedios has a continuous call, and factory regans find ready takers whenever found.

New York

There is no life in the tobacco trade here and there is none expected until the character of the crop can be approximated. The leaf is curing down as well as can be expected, although the crop is not so large as last season. The leaf, however, is

HER COUSIN WAS GUEST OF HONOR

MRS. BAACK ENTERTAINED FOR MRS. COX, OF ATLANTA.

CHARMING FIVE O'CLOCK TEA

Ladies Who Furnished the Baack Home with Sofa Pillows Were the Guests.

Mrs. Frank H. Baack was the hostess at a charming five o'clock tea given at her pleasant home, 457 Court street last evening. Mrs. Baack entertained in honor of her cousin, Mrs. Charles Cox of Atlanta, Ga., who is visiting her and the party was a delightful social event.

The company was not a large one, twenty ladies being Mrs. Baack's guests. Last year, just before Mr. and Mrs. Baack took possession of their new home Mrs. Baack was the victim of a unique surprise. Without her knowledge she was made the special guest of honor at a company given at the home of Mrs. Charles McLean, being showered with sofa pillows which were the handiwork of her friends. Mrs. McLean's party was the culmination of the pretty plot, each of the ladies who were her guests having made a pillow for Mrs. Baack.

It was her "sofa-pillow friends" whom Mrs. Baack entertained last evening and the company was an especially jolly one. The treasured sofa pillows were conspicuously displayed in the handsome parlors, to whose furnishings they are such a valuable addition and large bouquets of carnations and chrysanthemums lent their beauty to the scene.

A dainty three-course supper was very prettily served at small tables, the hostess being assisted in waiting on her guests by Mrs. Charles McLean and Miss Bristol. The balance of the evening was enjoyably devoted to the playing of six-handed euchre, at which the first prize was won by Mrs. W. H. Greenman, while Miss Bristol was awarded the consolation prize.

Manchester, Pa.

The crop of Sumatra tobacco grown at our state experimental station, under cover, has been stripped and yesterday the entire lot was shipped to Connecticut, to be bulk sweated, along with some of the same kind raised there. I examined some brands of these goods, and they seemed to me to be of excellent quality. In fact, in everything save color, they were equal to any I have so far seen. The sweating process will no doubt correct the colors. So far as weight goes, it certainly matches the imported article and 200 or more leaves will be required to make a pound. The weight of the crop—it was a measured half acre—was 856 pounds. If it comes through its fermentation all right, it will demonstrate that this type of tobacco can be grown here as well as in Connecticut. A row of Vuelta Abaja tobacco was also planted under the tent, and while I saw no samples of it, Mr. Grider, the manager, told me it was as fully desirable as a wrapper leaf as the Sumatran. Here again, there is little room for further experimentation.

Another expert in soils has been in this county during the week making an investigation into the red, sandy soils that are found in the northeastern portions of the county. This soil is the sandiest portion of the county, is dark red in color and some of our best tobacco is grown on it. I have tried several times to have the government experts examine it, under the belief that it was better adapted than any of our other soils to the growth of foreign leaf tobacco. I am very anxious to see an experiment, under cover, tried on it.

MANY DUCKS ARE FLYING SOUTH

They Arrive and Leave for Better Feeding Grounds in a Night

According to a Winneconne local, ducks in that vicinity are more numerous than for several past seasons, especially the canvasback variety, many of which are secured by the duck hunters. But the trouble is that the ducks are kept from getting on Lakes Winneconne and Poyxun by yacht owners from down stream, who come up with their yachts and houseboats, and anchor on the favorite feeding grounds of the ducks, with parties of city sportsmen and their rifles, the presence of the yachts effectively scaring the ducks and keeps them from alighting. In the meantime the hunters may occasionally bring down one from their yachts when a flock flies near enough, but the bulk of their fusilading is aimed at birds so far up that the only effect is to help frighten them from the vicinity. If it were possible to stop this dog-in-the-manger sort of sport the ducks would literally swarm on these waters, where they can find their favorite food in endless plenty.

If the above is true the game wardens might find plenty of work in Winneconne and Poyxun. The game laws expressly state that any party pursuing any aquatic bird upon any of the waters of this state, with a boat propelled by steam, naphtha or other engine or machinery, shall be subject to a fine of not less than $10 or more than $50, for each and every offense, or imprisonment in the county jail not more than thirty days. The law, however, does allow the hunter to pursue the birds on the open waters of the lake between sunrise and sunset in a row-boat or paddle boat, Lake Koshong and Fox Lake being excepted.

EASILY FOUND THE ONE MORE SINGER

Sunbeam Choir for Baptist Church Now Numbers Over One Hundred Children.

Several times over the one needed child was secured to sing in the Sunbeam choir at the Baptist church, and bring the total number in the organization up to a round one hundred. Now the membership of the chorus which is assisting in the revival services has passed some distance beyond the century mark.

More people attended the meeting last evening than at any time since Sunday. Probably the increased interest was in large part due to the popular nature of the subject which Mr. Hunt had selected for his talk, "Danger Signals, or Evils Besetting Our Youth." His remarks were of a nature to fully merit the attendance.

DEPLORE LACK OF A SEWER SYSTEM

Dixon City Officials Give Their Opinion of Recent Street Improvements After Ride About City.

After spending over six hours in the city, the members of the Dixon, Ill., city council left for Madison last evening, where they will continue their tour of investigation. From Madison they make their way to Milwaukee, reaching their home again on Saturday.

When the members of the party had completed their drive which was extensive, embracing many of the intersecting streets of the city between St. Mary's avenue on Milton avenue, and the city crusher.

In speaking of their impressions of the city the Dixon gentlemen had only the highest praise with one exception. They believed that a mistake was being made in expending so great an amount on the surface improvement of the street before an adequate sewer system had been put in underneath.

Otherwise the visitors spoke of Janesville as a model city in every respect. The city hall came in for its full share of praise. They spent some time in the latter building and conversation with members of the city council. While in the city they stopped at the Grand where they were accompanied, both at noon and at the evening meal by Mayor Richardson, Alderman Gilkey and City Engineer Kerch, the last being most prominent in showing the city to the gentlemen.

George L. Scott

George L. Scott died at the Wisconsin Veterans' home, Waipaca, on Friday morning, Nov. 14, of dropsy and was buried on the home grounds Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Scott was a well-known resident of Janesville up to the time of the breaking out of the rebellion. He was born in Connecticut in 1853 and with his parents came to Janesville in 1848, settling on the island. The last of April '61 he enlisted in Capt. Ely's company of the 2nd Wisconsin for three months. He re-enlisted in Co. F, 15th Wisconsin. At the end of nine months he received his discharge and afterwards enlisted in the 12th battery, serving with that organization until the close of the war. He was married several times but the only known relatives now living is a niece in Dakota, to whom he left what little property he was possessed of. Scott was admitted to the home in 1897.

INTERESTING TALK UPON CORONATION

Charles Hamilton Gave Vivid Lecture at the Opera House Upon Recent British Fete.

Charles Hamilton gave an interesting and forceful lecture at the Grand Opera House last evening on the Coronation of King Edward, and makes no pretence at oratorical skill, or the flamboyant style of the famous, seeking globe trotter, but tells in a simple and direct way, of the impressions which he received of the great British pageant, using admirably framed sentences, livened by a dry humor.

Before taking up the coronation ceremonies Mr. Hamilton introduced the hearer to the city of London, visiting in fancy several of the important public buildings, and showing some excellent dissolving lantern views of the principal streets. Only the salient landmarks of general interest in the discussion which was to follow were chosen.

The coronation ceremonies were then made the theme of an interesting description of the places figuring more particularly in the ceremonies, the public buildings in which the services were held, the gorgeously decorated homes of the leading residents of London, the illuminated streets, and a hundred and one details which were perhaps of no great historical importance, but yet helped to give a personally viewed impression of the scenes which were about to be described.

In touching upon the procession, to and from the Abbey moving pictures were used to more accurately depict the actual scenes. In these, too, Mr. Hamilton touched upon those more trivial details which gave the touch of realism and verity which made the lecture powerful.

All of the details of the coronation were carefully brought out with scrupulous attention to accuracy. The form of the oath which was taken by the monarch, and the order of the procession which preceded and followed the king were given.

Mr. Hamilton closed with a brief statement of the impression which the ceremonies had upon him, and his idea of the importance of the coronation to the world. Personally he would have considered the historical connections of the city of London, the great who have died and are buried there worthy of more careful attention and study.

Physically, Mr. Hamilton is inclined to be of a portly figure, of a pleasant countenance, and clear voice, with an unimpeded utterance, and perfect distinctness of articulation. He uses a manuscript, but since the mind of the listener is principally attracted to the matter rather than the man this does not especially detract, after the first, from the interest in his words.

PRINCE OF DREAMS HERE TONIGHT

Emmett Corrigan Appears in His
New Play at the Myers
Grand.

The Milwaukee Sentinel says of "The Prince of Dreams" that appears at the opera house tonight: "Emmett Corrigan appeared as a star before an appreciative audience at the Davidson last night. The piece in which he is raised to this prominence is 'The Prince of Dreams,' written by Walter Hackett, a Chicago newspaper man. A friendly audience enjoyed Mr. Corrigan's personal achievement, and the comedy commanded additional interest because its performance here was virtually a production. If the reception accorded the play last night is a criterion it should find favor in the eyes of the public. The performance lacked snap—a fault accepted as a pardonable accompaniment of similar occasions—but the jests won many a laugh. Mr. Corrigan had many curial calls and his fellow players got a generous share of applause.

"The Prince of Dreams," which Mr. Hackett has designated an "extravaganza comedy," is something of a novelty, three parts farce and one part sentiment. The mixture makes a piece of pronounced originality. The comedy lines are witty, there are several strong situations and the acting offers rich material for clever stage management.

Mr. Corrigan in the title role read his lines well and conducted himself in a manner typical of the impetuous farceur. The sensational scenes, proving his versatility, were done with sincerity and simplicity. Ashley Miller, as the younger brother, was up to the mark. Oscar Briggs Stanley was good enough to suggest fattening the rather meagre part. The appearance of John Daly Murphy, who was a member of the old Salisbury Stock company in the Davidson, started so much applause that the actor was obliged to make several bows. Acknowledgments before he could proceed with the part of Louis Strauss, a low comedy Jew, who thereafter justified the reputation. Edward Hodges, a youngster, did Jimmy surprisingly well. Miss Valle de Vernon was satisfactory as Miss Venderburg. Miss Ethel Browning made a dainty Miss Wilton. Other parts were portrayed adequately."

HUGH McCAFFREY ESCAPES DEATH

But for Presence of Mind, the Plucky
Baggage man Would Have Been Crushed.

Hugh McCaffrey, who was quite seriously injured in the railroad wreck at Des Plaines, Ill., last Thursday night, is improving slowly and is able to get around the house and the yard a little each day. He expects to return to his duties as baggage master as soon as his injuries and the attending physician will permit but that will not be for some time yet.

It seems almost miraculous that Mr. McCaffrey was not killed or terribly mangled in the accident as the baggage car was filled with trunks. The first indication that he had that the train had been derailed came when he saw the car tipping. A number of heavy sample trunks had been piled on top of each other and this side of the car tipped toward him and a few seconds later lurched in the opposite direction.

Braced Against Trunks
Quick as a flash when he saw the trunks tipping toward him, Mr. McCaffrey realized that it meant probable death if they fell on him with full force, and, acting on the impulse of self preservation he braced himself against one of the heaviest ones just above his head. Pluckily he kept his hold until the trunks began to slide and fall over against a cupboard, aided possibly by the sudden lurch in the opposite direction which the car took as well as by the strength of the gritty baggage master.

The Trunks Fell
Some of the trunks struck Mr. McCaffrey as they fell but the force had been broken and the one which would have done the most damage was the one against which he was braced. Although Mr. McCaffrey modestly disclaims the fact that he owes his fortunate escape to his own prompt action, saying that it would have been impossible for him to direct the fall of the trunks toward the cupboard, it is self evident that he exerted almost superhuman strength and sustained a very severe shock.

His Injuries
Proof of this is found in the fact that he bones of his left leg, against which he was braced were forced together at the knee until they were ground together and as a result, the knee was frightfully swollen. The swelling is diminishing rapidly and the bandages have been removed. Mr. McCaffrey's other injuries consist of a serious straining of the muscles of the arms, shoulders, back and legs, in fact of almost all the muscles of his body, producing a peculiar numbness.

His First Accident
No serious results are anticipated, however, and Mr. McCaffrey is con-

DOUBLE SURPRISE ON THE DRUMMONDS

Brother and Sister Are Pleasantly Remembered on Their Birthdays
by Their Friends.

Surprise parties are not infrequent occurrences but double birthday surprises are rather a novelty and perhaps that is one reason why last evening's party, at which Miss Agnes Drummond and her brother, Will Drummond were the victims, was such a jolly affair.

Yesterday was the anniversary of Mr. Drummond's birth and a few days ago his sister passed another milestone on life's pathway. Their friends thought that the occasion ought not to be permitted to pass unnoticed and so they invited themselves to spend the evening with the brother and sister. Consequently on last evening a company of about twenty young people invaded the Drummond home, 213 Treasures street, and a very pleasant evening followed the invasion.

Several hours were devoted to music and games and a tempting luncheon, which the guests had provided, was served. Before goodnight words said Miss Drummond was presented with a handsome gold brooch and her brother with a silk umbrella as souvenirs of the occasion and tokens of the esteem of their friends.

We sat at the table together.
She cast a shy glance over at me.

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 20.—Col. O. J. Hopkins of Toledo, a noted artilleryist and authority on galling gun-tactics, was killed by a street car at Columbus. He was employed in the office of the adjutant general. Col. Hopkins served through the civil war under General James A. Garfield as an infantryman. Later he became lieutenant colonel of the First Ohio Artillery and was regarded as an authority on the galling gun. The tactics which bear his name have been adopted by the United States and many of the European armies. The body has been brought to this city for burial.

ROBBER BAND COWS CITIZENS

Force Way Through Crowd at Point of Revolvers.

Edinboro, Pa., Nov. 20.—Five masked robbers blew open the safe in the postoffice and carried off $300 in postage stamps and $20 in cash. The explosion aroused the citizens, who surrounded the building, but were forced to open a way for escape at the point of ten revolvers in the hands of the burglars. A number of shots were fired, and George C. Goodall, a citizen, was wounded in the arm. The thieves stole a rural delivery horse and wagon at Erie and fled the mail in a wagon. A posse is in pursuit, but so far has failed to find the bandits.

"When I was twenty years of age I fell injuring my back, and ever since that I was troubled more or less with a dull aching pain across the loins. It never laid me up but it was often painful and annoying. Of late years I have gone to a physician every six months and had myself thoroughly examined under the impression that there might be something wrong with my kidneys. The diagnosis always resulting in the physician claiming these organs were sound, but as the pains existed when I happened to notice in our Janesville papers that Doan's Kidney Pills were guaranteed to cure just such troubles I procured a box at the People's Drug store and took them. Doan's Kidney Pills are a good preparation. My back has not ached since I used them. BANDITS HOLD UP TWENTY SPORTS

COVERS INMATES WITH PISTOL

Leader Forces the Crowd to Line Up
While His Assistant Relieves the Treasurer and Others of Cash and Other Valuables.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 20.—Two bandits held up a gambling den at Columbia Heights and secured $1,943 from the score of players and proprietors, meanwhile seriously wounding Harvey Howard, the negro porter. The gambling den is operated by a syndicate at the end of a trolley line leading from Minneapolis. It is in the rear of J. D. Sullivan's saloon.

Each robber used a dark handkerchief to shield the lower part of his face. There are two entrances to the den and the bandits appeared simultaneously at either door and ordered the inmates to hold up their hands. The players and attendants were then aligned on one side of the room. While the bandit leader kept the crowd covered with his revolver, his assistant rifled the pockets and tills.

Shoot the Porter.
First David Hice, the manager, was searched. He was relieved of his revolver, which was thrown out of a window. Then $165 was extracted from his pockets. Ingram Flick, treasurer of the resort, yielded $1,508. Half a dozen patrons of the place were relieved of sums ranging from $19 to $140.

While the robbery was in progress Stephen Carlson, who lodges upstairs, looked in. He made a hasty exit because one of the robbers fired four shots at him. Then Howard, the porter, aroused from sleep by the shots, bounded in to learn the cause and bounded out again. He received two bullets, one in each leg. He fell in the street, where he lay for half an hour until some of the victims of the robbery bore him inside after the bandits had left.

Saves Nearly $400.
The second robber went into the saloon in front, where he secured $30 from the cash drawer. Sullivan, however, hid $365. Afterward the bandit leader ordered his assistant to "get the rig." During his absence it developed that Sullivan's clothes had caught fire as the huddled crowd had pressed him close to the stove. The remaining bandit directed a realignment of the victims, because, as he said, he did not want to "burn the man up."

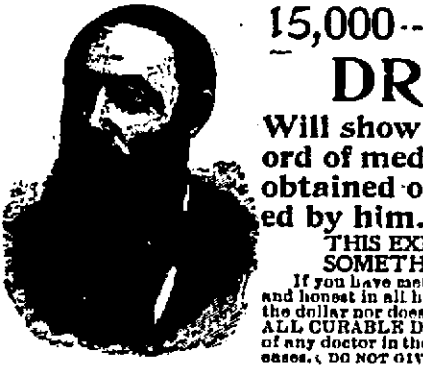

When the second robber returned the robbers backed out, keeping the crowd covered with revolvers until they themselves had disappeared in the darkness. Half a dozen detectives and a posse of citizens hastened to the scene, but search for the robbers has proved futile.

INDIAN POLICE SAVE BRAKEMAN

Redskins Holding a War Dance About Him Prior to Torture.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 20.—Advices from the Crow Wing Agency say the death of a squaw there nearly caused an uprising. The Indian on her cayuse was struck by a freight train and killed. A brave who accompanied the woman summoned a number of his followers and they swooped down upon the trainmen, capturing the brakeman, whom they carried to their camp. The Indian police were summoned and when they reached the tepees the excited braves were holding a war dance about their victim, who was bound to a tree, awaiting torture. The bucks objected to interference and for a time a clash was threatened, but the blue-clad Redskins succeeded in rescuing the man.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST
Increasing cloudiness, warmer tonight; possible showers Friday.

EDUCATION IN CHICAGO
That "the world do move," is apparent from the conditions that just now exist in the city schools of Chicago. A teachers' federation was recently organized, and last Sunday it became a part of the labor federation of the city, and its delegates were duly seated.

The spirit of rebellion which prompted the organization, and led to the alliance was exhibited in the following statement made by one of the delegates:
"For three years there has been a tendency in the schools toward autocracy and militarism. Thinkers have become alarmed at the wave of hypocrisy that has swept over our city educational institutions. The principals have been tools of those higher in authority. The teachers and pupils have been puppets of the principals. This step is a step toward reinstatement of a purely democratic spirit."

The meaning of this rather obscure screed about autocracy and democracy may be gathered from some remarks made by Fred C. Hopp, financial secretary of the labor federation.

"Now that the teachers are admitted to membership it is time that the Chicago Federation of Labor should begin a campaign for the abolition of the school board," said he. "That body serves no important purpose. It obeys the dictates of one set of men and is useful only to the book trust. There is no reason why the men and women who manage the public schools should not be selected by the teachers themselves. They are far more competent to attend to the business now done by the board than are the members of that body."

The Chicago Chronicle in commenting on this revolutionary proposition sizes up the situation so completely that the paper's comments are well worth reading.

"So this is the meaning in part, of the affiliation which has been engineered by a few impudent agitators among the teachers and ex-teachers! The first step is to abolish the board of education and substitute a committee of teachers who know little or nothing about the business affairs, which must be wisely administered or the schools will come to grief."

"This administrative committee must take its orders from the labor federation or the Teachers' federation will be expelled. So the ultimate authority is not to be an autocrat exactly, but a body which was not created for any such purpose as school administration and which is extra-legal and therefore utterly irresponsible. "Such being the meaning of this affiliation, the duty of the school authorities, plain enough from the mere fact that teachers are public servants, becomes instant and imperative.

"When it was proposed to unionize the police force the foot of superior authority was put down at once and put down firmly. It should be put down no less promptly in the case of the Teachers' federation.

"The various branches of the public service are organized by law. Organizations within the service avowedly for the destruction of the legal organization are not to be tolerated. They must be outlawed.

"Teachers should be notified that if they wish to retain their places in the public service they must sever their connection with the federation which has formally arrayed itself against the public authorities and to do so immediately. The present situation is intolerable.

"It is fair to presume that the most of them are not at all in sympathy with this scandalous movement of insubordination. They would do well to anticipate the action of the authorities which the course of the federation under the leadership of reckless agitators has rendered imperatively necessary."

The action of the teachers appears to have received the hearty endorsement of the scholars, and strikes in the ranks of the youngsters are of almost daily occurrence. One grade marched out of a room on a grievance, the other day, and refused to resume business until demands were met.

These demands called for a four-hour school day. For the reinstatement of Johnnie Smith and Harry Jones. For a week's holiday at Thanksgiving and two weeks at Christmas, and various other things that fancy suggested.

At another building three hundred boys went out on a strike Monday, because the hydrants were shut off. They paraded the streets with banners announcing, "No water, no study." While public sentiment will denounce the action of the teachers, it will be in sympathy with the boys. The city of Chicago is open to severe criticism when it refuses to furnish wholesome water for the public schools.

THE DANGEROUS SURPLUS
Aside from the tariff, there is nothing that worries the democratic party so much as the surplus. A bank account, and plenty of money for current expenses, is regarded ed as a national calamity, so much so, that when the party was last in control, it proceeded to spend the surplus and place the nation on a borrowing basis, in short order. If there is anything to recommend that sort of financiering, the people have not yet discovered it.

The argument is advanced, that a surplus is dangerous, because it leads to extravagance. That argument is threadbare and lacks the element of common sense. The nation is progressive. It commands today the attention and respect of all nations. It is commended not only for great industrial achievement, but for marked ability in financiering.

The money expended for great improvements is neither squandered nor wasted, and the people have no complaint to register. They have discovered that a full treasury is an evidence of national prosperity and this kind of prosperity always means success to the individual.

One experiment of spending the surplus, is enough for one generation. Let the good times go on, and if money accumulates people who have any regard for money and its value, will not complain. The country is not suffering for another reign of democracy.

The open season for football and deer hunting closes at about the same date. The victims of the former are difficult to locate, but "mistaken for deer," is the brief announcement that records the long list of fatalities in the northern woods.

While John Mitchell is undoubtedly the best representative of organized labor that could have been selected to meet the strike commission, he is discovering that there are two sides to all questions, and that labor unions must share responsibility.

The many friends of the old Northwestern engineer, Albert Selleck, will be pleased to know that he is exonerated from blame in the late Des Plaines accident.

The church in Fond du Lac that has substituted card parties for a Sunday night service, will have no use for a spire or bell, when the innovation becomes popular.

Idle capital and idle labor means permanent loss to both capital and labor. The millions of money lost to the strikers in the coal strike will never be regained.

The nation revised the tariff and went hungry eight years ago. Better go a little slow before trying the experiment again.

Congressman Babcock is getting plenty of free advertising these days. The gentleman from Vernon was always a believer in printers' ink.

The location of a watch tower seems like an insignificant thing, for two great railway corporations to be quarrelling about.

J. Pierpont Morgan has a penny invested in a ladies' church society at Flint, Michigan, with a promise of more to follow as occasion demanded.

Coal is retailing in Chicago and Milwaukee at $7.50 per ton. Janesville should have $9 coal before Christmas.

Rock county has no reason to worry over state appointments this year.

PRESS COMMENT

Marquette Eagle: To prevent that lonesome feeling in the home, get a baby.

Chicago Record-Herald: Mr. Bryan can hardly fail to be impressed with the fact that the recent election resulted in the elimination of several promising presidential candidates.

Pittsburg Dispatch: The sultan of Bacolod is reported to have thought better of it. He wanted war, but the preparations of the Americans to till his order convinced him that he had made a mistake.

Marquette Eagle: There are more ways to raise trouble than there are to raise dust. And they are easier.

Fond du Lac Reporter: The voting machine seems to have struck a popular chord in Milwaukee. The next thing necessary is a machine that induces the voter to go to the polls and cast his ballot.

Oshkosh Times: The subject of better country schools is receiving some considerable attention just now. If the country schools can be made better so much the better. They can be none too good.

Beloit Free Press: The rummage sale must go. The health commissioners have got after them as being dispensers of microbes and otherwise unsanitary. Hereafter bon fires will be the proper disposition of ancient relics and antiquated bric-a-brac.

State Journal: The question of taxation of public service corporations is sure to be the leading one in the coming legislative session. If the railroad and other corporations of the kind are wise, they will meet the demand of the people in this matter half way, and not continue to place obstacles in the way of enforcing equality in taxation.

Chicago Record-Herald: Another Frenchman has been scratched in a duel. The French duel may yet become deadly. There is always the possibility of blood poisoning.

Chicago Daily News: Since the Missouri supreme court has decided that the state whiskey tax is unconstitutional the Missourians and the Kentuckians are exchanging congratulations.

Milwaukee Journal: The probable reason that President Roosevelt did not kill the bear which he found tied to a tree was that he did not want to have any trouble with the butchers' union.

Green Bay Gazette: Some enterprising county clerk who is looking for all the business he can attract would make a great hit by giving away a life insurance policy with each hunting license he issues.

Chicago Inter-Ocean: India is becoming prosperous once more, and everybody will be glad to hear of it, if for no other reason than because of the relief which accompanies any change in the routine news from that quarter.

Cleveland Leader: Elbert Hubbard declares that the man who says "In time of peace, prepare for war," is a fool. Yet the American people, with practical unanimity, will continue to rank George Washington so far above the freak lecturer of Roycroft fame that comparisons are absurd.

New York World: Brooklyn's 12 year old burglar snatched the palm for precocity from the 13 year old boy historian—and will perhaps hold it until some 11 year old trust magnate appears.

Evening Wisconsin: In following the Wisconsin's advice not to be a candidate for the speakership, Congressman Babcock has made no mistake, and in giving their support to Cannon, Wisconsin's solid ten are doing the best thing possible under the circumstances.

Whitewater Register: Every weekly republican paper in the state of well assured standing, and every republican daily except two, have declared in favor of the re-election of Senator Spooner. Will The Milwaukee Free Press and The La Crosse Chronicle state who is their candidate or candidates?

New York Mail and Express: The soundest chunk of solid wisdom carved out of arctic ice that we have seen is Explorer Baldwin's remark: "I could have reached the pole, but did not make the attempt because I feared that I could not get back." The dash home is of much more importance than the dash hence.

Oshkosh Northwestern: According to reports the hunters who are in the northern woods after deer have managed to slaughter a number of cows and horses belonging to the farmers, and an exchange from that section announces that if the nimrods are bound to draw blood even if they cannot get a shot at real game they had better return to the practice of shooting each other rather than kill off all the live stock in that section.

Eau Claire Leader: There is nothing for which the public is more grateful than being frequently treated to a panic, a secret well-known to modern editors. Mr. Strange has created quite a sensation recently by his utterances through the state press, but people are getting over the shock as well as could be expected. They find now that he spoke in Plekwickian sense.

La Crosse Press: The last election shows a general breaking of party lines in Wisconsin. An analysis of the official returns from fifty-four counties shows that 25,000 republicans voted against La Follette and as the governor received at least the normal republican majority, he must have been supported by at least an equal number of democrats. The next election may see an alignment entirely new in Wisconsin.

Sioux Falls Press: The New York American proves that economy is the road to wealth. It mentions a gentleman connected with the police force of that city has been paid $40,500 in salary in 26 years. Out of this he has saved over a million dollars. His explanation was that he always lived within his income—which accounts for it.

St. Louis Republic: Of what good will a $70,000 mansion be to the governor-elect of Kansas if he persists in remaining a bachelor, against the wishes and advice of his constituents? It would not be a home by any name, without a governess. Who will see that the governor has on a fresh collar before he goes to his office? Presumably the governor-elect has heard of the Missouri girl.

A Billville Boy's Idea
(Atlanta Constitution.)
My pa is a legislator, an' ma says he passes more bills than he brings home. Ma says he likes to hear himself talk; but he talks more in the Legislature than when he is home. Ma says there is only one thing to regret 'bout his bel'n' in the Legislature, and that is—it'll only keep him there fifty days. I think Ma thinks he ought have a life sentence. Let us all strive to be politicians, an' git elected, an' go off somewhere, and give the folks at home a holiday.

An Off Hand Answer
"Will you allow me to ask you a question?"
"Certainly sir," answered the speaker.

"You have been giving me a lot of figures about immigration, increase of wealth, the growth of trusts, and all that," said the man. "Let's see what you know about figures yourself. How do you find the greatest common divisor?"
Slowly and deliberately the orator took a drink of water.
Then he pointed his finger straight at the questioner. Lightning flashed from his eyes, and he replied in a voice that made the gas jets quiver: "Advertiser for it, you ignoramus." The audience cheered and yelled and stamped and the wretched man who had asked the question sneaked out of the hall, a total wreck.

American Sculpture for Japan.
Mrs. Thomas Ruggles Kitson, the Boston artist, has just finished two bas-reliefs of Japanese artists, which are to be cast in bronze and placed in the Museum of Arts at Tokio.

Enormous Capital of Trusts.
There are 287 trusts. The total amount of capital stock issued to the trusts scheduled is $5,803,331,600, and of bonds outstanding $1,163,217,251, making a total capitalization of $6,972,448,851.

Too Many Step-Children.
"Five step-children in the family" have wrecked the marital bliss of Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Dixon of Coffeyville, and a divorce suit is pending in the district court.

Monument to French Prince.
Fifty-eight feet is the height of a colossal monument to the late Prince Henry of Orleans, which is to be erected on Cape St. Jacques, at the mouth of the Salgon river, French Cochinchina.

Asylum in Memory of Victoria.
It has been decided to found an eye hospital and an asylum for the blind as Ceylon's memorial to the late Queen Victoria.

Evidence of Apathy.
A South American president is said to have observed that the want of interest taken in public affairs was deplorable. He had not been shot at for at least a fortnight.

TROUBLE OVER THE CABBAGES

AN UNPAID-FOR MOWER IS ALSO INVOLVED.

THE CASE IS ON TRIAL TODAY

Katharine Egan's Suit Was Dismissed—Other Cases Were Held Over or Adjourned.

At 10 o'clock this morning the case of Amos Brown against Harvey Johnson was called in Judge Egan's court. The case was held over for a hearing until three o'clock this afternoon. At ten o'clock this morning the suit of Fred H. O'Brien against Nels Lesinski was also called in the same court. The claim is for eight dollars for an old mower and five dollars for some cabbages. The defendant answered that he only took the mower on trial and found that it proved unsatisfactory and that he had never accepted the cabbages.

The trial of the case was continued all of the morning, and was stopped at noon for a recess until 1:30 o'clock when it was continued. J. J. Cunningham appeared as attorney for the plaintiff and E. H. Peterson for the defendant. The parties in the case live in the town of Rock.

Heard Next Year
One more case was on the same docket this morning and turned out to be the first case to be postponed in that court to the year 1904. The parties to the action were Patrick Walsh as plaintiff and E. J. Owen and Hannah M. Owen as defendants, the suit being to recover money alleged to be due as commission for the sale of land. The defendants are now living in Chicago, and the case was adjourned until February 5, for a hearing.

Case Is Settled
Ralph W. Adair and Katharine Egan patched up their difficulties out of court, so that when the case was called in Justice Reeder's court yesterday afternoon, all that was left to do was to dismiss the case. Mrs. Egan still insists that she was given an unjust decision in the case against Edward Kleb, and says that she will spend her last cent, if needed, to bring the matter to a rightful outcome. She now threatens to appeal the case to a higher court.

PLEASANT GATHERING

Members of a Clinch Club Entertained by Mrs. Frank Rader.
Mrs. Frank Rader entertained the first gathering of the members of the 153 club yesterday afternoon. The time was pleasantly spent in playing clinch and other amusements. The prizes were won by Mrs. Fred Blakely and Mrs. George Tuffy.
At 4:30 a choice luncheon was served to the assembled guests, their wants being looked after by the Misses Nina Haskins and Bertha Gilbertson. The guests, one and all, decided that the first meeting of the club was a complete success.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE DOING

Repairing Tracks: The street railway company have a force of men at work repairing their tracks along Academy street from Holt's hotel to the north side of the railroad tracks.
Laurel Lodge: Regular meeting of Laurel Lodge, Degree of Honor, No. 2, at East Side Odd Fellows hall, Thursday evening, November 20 at 7:30 sharp. Card social to follow.
Art League: The History Class of the Art League will meet with Mrs. Mary R. Merrill, 55 South 3rd street, tomorrow afternoon. The meeting will be called promptly at 3 o'clock.
Honor Cantillon: Trainmaster Jas. P. Cantillon was presented with a purse of $200 by the engine and station men of the Northwestern in Milwaukee before he left for his new home in Winona, Tuesday.

A Pleasant Afternoon: The members of the None Such clinch club were the guests of Mrs. Bert Merrill on Pleasant street yesterday afternoon. The afternoon was devoted to card playing, being watched by Mrs. A. J. Watson and Mrs. Ross Merrill. At the close of the games choice refreshments were served by the hostess and enjoyed by all present. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. F. F. Nicholson on Chatham street, Wednesday, Dec. 3rd.
That Tower Again: The watchman's tower at Academy street that has caused so much controversy, will be moved across the street to the place at which it was located by the Northwestern. Unless the tower is out of the street before Monday night the council will take action in the matter.

Court Notes: Martin Gagan was before Judge Fifield this morning for smashing a plate glass window in the house at the corner of Marion and Wall streets, owned by the Schlitz Brewing Co. and occupied by Florence Hickman. He demanded a jury trial and a venire was issued returnable at two o'clock this afternoon.

HOUSE NUMBERS AND PLATES

Canvassers Will Call on House Owners To Supply Same
The Daily Gazette has made arrangements with the manufacturer of a fine aluminum house number and door plate to supply the house owners of Janesville with their number or plate at greatly reduced prices. Messrs. Betts and Williams will begin a canvass of the city at once and explain the proposition to the people. The numbers have been used extensively in Sterling, Beloit, Preppent and other cities and have given good satisfaction.

RUSHING WORK
Walls Of New Postoffice Are Being Rapidly Put Up
The brick work on the walls of the new postoffice is being pushed along as fast as possible while the good weather lasts. The contractors are anxious to get as much of the brick work finished as possible before freezing weather sets in and makes them stop. The pressed facing brick for the outside walls has arrived and are being laid with a backing of brick manufactured by Fifield Bros. The facing brick are about the same color as those in the public library and will give the building a handsome appearance.

NOVEL SENTENCE GIVEN TO PREPS

CUT DOWN TREE AND MUST PAY THE PENALTY.

ARE TURNING IT INTO FUEL

No Punishment Will Be Given to the Sophomores Who Participated in Escapade Last Week.

"Papa" Burr of Beloit academy has always stood as a Solomon among justice dispensers. This week he has given sentence to two of his "preps" which fully sustains his old-time fame.
Samuel Sullivan, of River Forest, Ill., and R. A. McCormick, of Hayward, Wis., were the offending parties. A saw found in their possession laid the blame on them for a large oak tree which had been sawed down near Prof. E. G. Smith's residence. The matter was brought before Prof. Burr, and he allowed them to choose between going home to their parents and turning the tree into fuel, ready sawed and split for use.

Saw in Public
Neither of them had ever handled a saw or an ax, but after consideration they decided that they might as well attempt the job. A stipulation in the punishment was that the work should be done where the tree was felled and during school hours. As the place is passed constantly during the day by the students on their way to and from classes, the boys are constantly subjected to a running fire of joking remarks.
When the wood has all been sawed they will be required to grub out the stump and plant four young trees to take the place of the old one.

ALL AMENDMENTS HAVE PASSED

Biggest Majority Is Given the Anti-Pass Bill—School Bill Has 5,000 Majority.
The official count of the last election has been made and is now on record at the Secretary of State's office. The result of the three amendments has been in doubt but with only twelve counties to hear from the majorities for their passage are now assured.
The School Amendment
The majority thus far for the school amendment is between five and six thousand, Rock county being one of the banner counties in the list of majorities.
This was to change the time of the election of this state officer from the autumn to the spring election, designed for the purpose of removing the office from the field of politics. It also gives the legislature the power to make the salary of the superintendent as high, if it so desires, as is the pay of the other officers. He now receives $1,200 a year, but a "side job" is always found for him, which has increased his salary to $4,000 or $5,000.

TWILIGHT CLUB GOES TO MADISON

The Topic Chosen for the Meeting is "Municipal Government"—Many Will Go.

Municipal government will be the topic discussed by the Twilight club on its visit to Madison on December 1. The subject has been divided into a number of sub-topics but as the speakers have not all been secured as yet the committee does not care to give them out.
A letter was received yesterday from Mr. Wilder, the secretary of the Madison club saying that they were much pleased with the topic chosen for discussion. Judge Fifield will preside over the session of the club after they have been welcomed by the Madison speaker. It is thought that the address of welcome will be delivered either by Senator Spooner or Senator W. F. Vilas.
Supper will be served to the visitors by the Madison club promptly at 6:30 o'clock and all members are requested to be on hand at this time.
The club members will not remain in Madison over night but will return on one of the late trains, so that arrangements will be made for sleeping them as was offered in the invitation.

LEVY IS COMPLETE

Rock County Must Raise $180,540. As Its Share of Taxes
County Clerk Starr has just completed the annual tax levy for Rock county. The total amount of state and county tax to be collected this year is $180,540.50. This is the heaviest tax that Rock county has had to pay in many years. Of this amount the city of Janesville pays $38,544.96 and Beloit, $25,829.25, or about twelve thousand less than Janesville. The statements of the amount due from each town, village and city were sent to the different clerks this afternoon and the collection of taxes will soon begin.

BATTERY IS HERE

New Fire Alarm System Will Soon Be In Order
A portion of the new storage battery for the fire alarm system has arrived and is being placed in position in Chief Engineer Klein's office in the new city hall. The case for the machinery is of handsome quarter sawed oak and matches the moulding and finish of the room.
The cables and wires of the fire alarm system are already in place in the room, ready to be attached as soon as the battery is in order.
A number of changes are being made with the wires about town so everything will be in first-class shape to connect with the new battery.

TO OPEN WAREHOUSE

H. M. Handy Will Have Charge Of The Broadhead Warehouse
Harry M. Handy will have charge of the Broadhead warehouse of the American Clear Company, during the coming assorting season. Mr. Handy is thoroughly posted on handling leaf tobacco and is one of the best men that could be found for the position. He has been in the employ of F. S. Baltes for a number of years and knows the tobacco business from start to finish. The position carries a fine salary with it and Mr. Handy's many friends will be pleased to hear of his good fortune.

The official count of the last election has been made and is now on record at the Secretary of State's office. The result of the three amendments has been in doubt but with only twelve counties to hear from the majorities for their passage are now assured.
The School Amendment
The majority thus far for the school amendment is between five and six thousand, Rock county being one of the banner counties in the list of majorities.

Anti-Pass
The anti-pass amendment received the largest majority, the vote being almost two in favor to one in opposition. The amendment was submitted for the purpose of making it unconstitutional for any railroad or other carrying corporation to issue passes to legislators and other state officers. It also makes illegal the issuance of telegraph, telephone, express and other franchises.

Banking
The banking amendment received the smallest comparative support. It will be found to have passed by a majority probably less than 4,000. This amendment was designed to give the state legislature the power to enact a law which shall bring about a degree of uniformity in the operation of the banking system of the state.

Resolutions of Respect

Local Union, No. 536, Janesville, Wis.
Whereas, it has been the will of the Great Builder of the Universe to call from us our brother, Daniel R. Tuttle; and
Whereas, his work is done, he toils with us no more, nor does he meet with us in the interest of unionism, of which he was a most hearty sympathizer; and
Whereas, we feel the loss of a faithful member, one meriting the respect of all who knew him; his deeds were honorable and worthy; a life commanding commendation; therefore be it

Resolved, That while bowing to the will of the Almighty, we deeply regret the death of our friend and brother and tender to the bereaved family and friends our heartfelt sympathy in this, their hour of affliction, and be it further
Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, that a page in our records be set aside for these resolutions as a tribute of respect, that a copy of these be presented to the afflicted family and published in the daily papers and a copy be sent to our official journal, "The Carpenter," for publication.

CUP PRESENTED BY REV. DENISON

CLASS OF 1903 RECEIVES THE FOOTBALL TROPHY.

DONOR MAKES PRESENTATION

Speaks Before the High School This Morning on the Value of Pure Athletics.

At the Janesville High school this morning the opening exercises were of an unusually pleasant nature, to the members of the Senior class at least, being devoted to the formal presentation of the Denison trophy, which was won, with the High school championship, by the Senior class football team.
The presentation was made by the Rev. Robert C. Denison, the donor of the cup which already bears the name of the class of 1902 twice as its winners for two years and on which the third name to be engraved is the class of 1903, the Senior class of the present.

For Pure Athletics
Rev. Denison's presentation remarks were brief and in his usual happy manner. He referred to the fact that the cup was not given simply to be won, but that its object was to encourage the highest grade of athletics. He felt that this year the object for which the cup was given had been attained and he wished to congratulate the entire school.
He also congratulated the Senior class on its success in winning the cup and on the attainment of that high athletic standard which it was desired that the cup should represent.

Football Makes Gentlemen
Rev. Denison then referred to the value of football as a sport which develops the higher manhood. If the physical development were all there was to football, it would be of little value, but it brings out the finer qualities. It makes the true gentleman and this is the reason why it should be encouraged as a part of the school work.

Probably no citizen of Janesville occupies a higher place in the sincere esteem and affection of the High school students than Rev. Denison and whenever he speaks before the High school he is heard with the closest attention and interest. His remarks this morning made a deep and lasting impression on the students.
The Cup Accepted
Stow Lovejoy, president of the class of 1903, responded for the Seniors, his few remarks being well chosen.
He thanked Rev. Denison not so much for the giving of the cup as for his kindly interest in the High school which was expressed in the gift.

"BOZE" REITER MAY BE HEAD COACH

Princeton Half Back May Come to Wisconsin as Coach Next Year.

THE MILWAUKEE FREE PRESS SAYS UP the football situation at the University for the season of 1903 and names the choices for coaches as follows:

"The defeat of the University of Wisconsin football team twice in one season has resulted in a great deal of talk regarding the coach to be secured for next year, the belief being general among the students that it will be impossible to get Phil King to return. The latest name to be rumored as a possible successor to the Princeton strategist is that of 'Boze' Reiter, halfback on the Princeton team, and a man who is said to be highly recommended by Coach King. He is still at Princeton this year, although he finished his four years in football two years ago and has not been eligible to play since that time. Reiter is said to have all the necessary qualifications of a head coach, and the plan suggested is to get him for next season and to secure Cochems and Curtis as his assistants. Cochems for the backs and ends and Curtis for the line men."

Another Choice
Another man whom it is said would be acceptable to Wisconsin is Coach Booth of Nebraska. The Nebraska man was considered last season, and as he was a former Princeton player, having been center on his college team, he would follow the general policy of the present coach. If he were to be secured it is probable that one or two assistants would be chosen to help him. Riordan might be one of those so chosen if he cares to remain, but it is unlikely that Jerry will want to go back again next year.
While there are several other possibilities, whatever will be done will have in view the ultimate adoption of the graduate coach system, for which Wisconsin has been preparing for the past three or four years.

BIG LOSS OF LIFE IN GUATEMALA

HUMAN GHOULS ON THE TRAIL

Bands of Robbers Waylay the Refugees and Relieve Them of Food and Water—Indians Furnish Most of the Victims of the Disaster.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 20.—The first refugees from the devastated lands of Guatemala arrived on the steamer City of Para. They came from the island, and traveled over a country laid waste by sand, ashes, and pumice before reaching a railway station. They made the journey by rail to Champerico, and there took the steamer to San Francisco. They sailed on Nov. 7, when the volcano was still smoking and rumbling. They escaped to the seashore with little more than the clothing they wore.

The refugees confirm stories of loss of life. They say that the victims, for the most part, are Indians. They had not heard of any white people being lost. Miles of plantations are under ashes, and absolute ruin is the lot of many planters. Gen. Barrios is safe.

Shower of Ashes.

Ferdinand Barwell, one refugee, in telling his story of the eruption, said: "A great column of smoke and fire rose seemingly to the peak of Santa Maria. That was on the night of Oct. 24. All that night the earth shook in almost constant vibration. Ashes like coarse sand fell in a heavy shower that continued for several hours, and then the ashes became lighter and drifted about in clouds of light dust. Breathing was difficult, but the atmosphere was so hot that it seemed as though the skin would be peeled from a person's body."

"We were on the side of the volcano least exposed to the fury of the eruption, and fully thirty miles away from the mountain, yet our place is ruined beyond all hope of recovery."

Destruction Is Complete.

"At Champerico, while waiting for the boat, we met several planters from the vicinity of Costa Cuca, Palmar, Reforma, and Xoluhuts, where the destruction was much more severe than on our side of the mountain. They said that the destruction to their property there was complete, and that from 3,000 to 4,000 of the natives and employees of the planters had perished. One of these refugees said that on his way out he counted seventy natives lying half buried under stones and ashes from the volcano."

"The country about these ruined plantations was thickly settled, and in some of the more densely populated districts there were villages in which thousands of natives lived."

Refugees are Robbed.

"Many refugees who were fleeing from the scene of destruction have been killed by the bands of robbers who now infest every trail. The food they carried is what particularly excited the cupidity of the robbers."

The refugees state that it is not the crater of Santa Maria that is in action, but a smaller mountain rising from one of the western slopes of Santa Maria, called El Rosalo.

The refugees owned the Magnolia plantation near L'Argentine, and about thirty miles south of Quetzaltenango.

ILLINOIS ODD FELLOWS MEET

Grand Lodge Picks Officers for the Ensuing Year.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 20.—At the meeting of the grand lodge, I. O. O. F., the following officers were elected: grand master, Charles Harris, Galesburg; deputy grand master, John J. Brown, Vandalla; grand warden, J. A. Brown, Carlinville; grand secretary, John M. Sikes, Springfield; grand treasurer, T. B. Needles, Nashville; the Rebekah assembly elected the following officers: president, Mrs. Mathe Van Duzer, Chicago; vice president, Mrs. Kittle Thomas, Quincy; secretary, Mrs. Mary E. Miller, Springfield.

CATTLE PERISH IN COLORADO

Drought Leaves Ranges Bare of Grass and Live Stock Is Dying.

Denver, Col., Nov. 20.—The Colorado Humane society received reports that live stock is perishing in various localities in this state, where the drought of last summer left the ranges bare of grass. At Black Mountain, where there has been a heavy snow-fall, cattle are reported to be dying by hundreds. The Wet mountain district is another from which complaints are coming.

Kills Her Son and Self.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 20.—Mrs. A. A. Clark shot her son, Alan Orford, under the chin, killing him. She then shot herself in the mouth, causing instant death. Temporary insanity is assigned as the cause.

GOVERNOR DURGIN IS DEFIED

High Reformatory Official Refuses to Resign as Requested.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 20.—At a conference at the capital between Gov. Durbin and John S. McDonald, member of the board of managers of the Jeffersonville reformatory, the governor demanded McDonald's resignation and the latter refused to give it. It is reported that the governor will demand the resignation of the entire board, but that the members will stand to their guns and defy the chief executive. The trouble grew out of the selection of Joseph P. Byers of Columbus, O., as successor to Supt. A. L. Hart. The governor was not consulted, and he was much displeased when he learned that an Ohio man had been selected.

ACCUSED OF MANSLAUGHTER

Chester A. Norton of Teutopolis, Ill., Held for Killing With Fist.

Effingham, Ill., Nov. 20.—Chester A. Norton, charged with killing James Moss of Teutopolis, Ill., at Teutopolis, four miles east of Effingham, was brought before Circuit Judge Ames and held under bail in the sum of $5,000, which he will be able to give. Norton struck Moss with his fist in resenting an insult and Moss fell to the floor and after partly rising fell back and struck his head on a marble-top table and expired. The evidence before Judge Ames was contradictory, one physician stating that death was caused from bruises and another from alcoholism.

RELAPSE FOR GOVERNOR YATES

Pulse Rises to the Hundred Mark and He Is Restless.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 20.—Governor Yates was restless yesterday, and while there was said to be no cause for alarm, he was worse than on Tuesday. The principal change in his condition was in his pulse, which rose to 100 and stayed in that neighborhood all day. At no time during the day was his temperature normal and much of the time it was 101. After a restless evening the governor fell asleep about 10 o'clock, with his temperature 100.5 and his pulse 100.

NO PLOT TO KILL ROOSEVELT

Secret Service Chief Wilkie Says Mrs. Dexheimer Is Mistaken.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Chief Wilkie of the United States secret service, in speaking of Mrs. Lena Dexheimer's story of a plot to kill President Roosevelt, said that a searching investigation by operatives of the secret service proved conclusively that she was mistaken as to the facts. Chief Wilkie is convinced that there has been no plot against the life of the president such as Mrs. Dexheimer describes. He believes, however, that she is an honest woman and sincere in her beliefs.

BECK GETS A LIFE SENTENCE

Murderer of Little Julia Wozniak Is Taken to Marquette Prison.

Menominee, Mich., Nov. 20.—Joseph Beck, the confessed murderer of 10-year-old Julia Wozniak, whom he killed in his blacksmith shop Sept. 28, was brought before Circuit Judge Stone. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to solitary confinement at hard labor for life in the branch state prison at Marquette. A crowd gathered at the station and pressed close around the prisoner as he was hustled aboard the train for the prison city, but no violence was offered.

Railroads Confiscate Coal.

Topeka, Kas., Nov. 20.—The residents of Kiowa county have wired to the Governor that the railroads have confiscated all the coal at hand and caused a fuel famine. People are gathering in school buildings and burning fences in stoves to keep warm.

On Chinese Mission.

Berlin, Nov. 20.—It is stated that a high official of the foreign office has been ordered by the kaiser to go to China. His mission is in connection with the settlement of the evacuation of Shanghai and the recognition of the Likin treaty.

OBERLIN ELECTS A PRESIDENT

Dr. Henry Churchill King Formally Chosen by the Trustees.

Oberlin, O., Nov. 20.—At the annual meeting of the board of trustees of Oberlin college Dr. Henry Churchill King was elected to the presidency of that institution to succeed Dr. John Henry Barrows, deceased. Dr. King was born in Hillsdale, Mich., Sept. 18, 1858. Most of his college experience has been connected with the institution of which he is now president. In 1879 he received from Oberlin the degree of A. B., in 1883 Harvard gave him the degree of D. D. From 1879 to 1882 he was professor of Latin and mathematics in Oberlin. The following two years were spent in study at Harvard. For two years Dr. King was a student in Berlin. Since 1897 he has been directly connected with Oberlin. He was made dean of Oberlin in 1891, declining the presidency of the Chicago Theological seminary to take the place. He is an author and lecturer of note.

EVASION RULING OF GRAND LODGE

Elks Incorporate for the Purpose of Giving Midsummer Carnivals.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 20.—Members of the Peoria Elks lodge have incorporated an association for the purpose of giving midsummer carnivals. The step was taken to evade the recent ruling by the grand lodge forbidding such entertainments under the auspices of the order. It is understood that the articles of incorporation exclude all persons not members of the Elks from becoming stockholders in the association. This is the first case of the kind to arise from the grand lodge ruling.

HUNDREDS ARE KILLED IN FIRE

City of Resht, Persia, Is Destroyed and 200 People Perish.

London, Nov. 20.—A fire lasting three days has destroyed the town of Resht in Persia. Fifteen hundred houses and many warehouses were wiped out and 200 persons perished. Resht, which is situated fourteen miles from the port of Enzelli, on the Caspian sea, has a population estimated at 25,000 to 30,000. It is the market for raw silk and cocoons and has a big import and export trade with Russia. The city was almost depopulated by the plague in 1830.

FINDS $1,600 IN OLD MATTRESS

Woman Discovers Former Owner's Hiding Place for Money.

Racine, Wis., Nov. 20.—While Mrs. Theodore Wiechers was examining an old mattress at her home, 612 Lafayette avenue, she discovered a hole through which she thought she saw greenbacks. Ripping off the cover, she found $1,600 in cash. The mattress was formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Broecker. Mr. Broecker died about four years ago and his wife is in an insane asylum.

Wants to Buy Brewery.

Manchester, Eng., Nov. 20.—The war office is considering the purchase of a brewery to supply the army canteen. It is expected the proposal will cause a lively debate when it comes up in the house of commons.

Stabs His Playmate.

Pudacah, Ky., Nov. 20.—Robert Wilkins and Willie Carroll, each aged thirteen, quarreled at school and later Wilkins was stabbed by Carroll and probably fatally injured. Wilkins teased Carroll, who is under arrest.

DANDERINE Grew this Hair.

FRANCES MARIE KNOWLTON AGE 24 MONTHS

That the Growth of the Hair Can Be Influenced for the Better. Even when subjected to the most unfavorable conditions, hair can be made to grow much faster and longer than it does normally. The above photograph of Miss Frances Marie Knowlton shows what care, persistence and a good hair invigorating tonic will do in the way of producing hair. This little girl has had Danderine applied to her hair and scalp regularly ever since she was three months of age, with the result that she now has the longest and most beautiful hair of her age. Danderine is a child of her age. Frances Marie is the daughter of Dr. E. W. Knowlton, 650 South Park Ave., Chicago. The doctor says that her hair is growing much faster than she is and he is sure it will be long enough to touch the floor when she stands erect by the time she is four years old. IT ASTONISHES EVERYBODY. FREE! We will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends us this advertisement with their name and address and 10 cents in silver or stamps to pay postage. "A New Woman."

Disease makes many a woman prematurely old. Dark-rimmed eyes, hollow cheeks and wasted form are accompanied by listlessness and loss of ambition. Home duties are a weariness, and social pleasures have no attraction.

One of the commonest expressions of women cured by Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription is this: "It has made a new woman of me."

There is a world of meaning in the words, "It means this sparkle brought back to the eyes; the complexion tinted with the rosy hue of healthy blood; the form rounded out anew in graceful curves; the whole body radiant with health."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It dries debilitating drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes new women of those prematurely aged by disease.

"Dr. Pierce's medicines are the best I have ever used," writes Mrs. E. H. H. of Chicago, Ill. "My health was badly run down when I consulted him by letter. My limbs were cold and my heart hurt and continually I was so nervous that the least thing would startle me almost into convulsions. I had palpitation of the heart so bad that I could scarcely walk sometimes. I felt utterly discouraged, but two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' made a new woman out of me."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for it in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

HARRY DANIEL'S MINOR OBSERVATIONS

Copyright, 1902, by Harry Daniel

SOME SUGGESTIONS FOR THANKSGIVING DAY.

ONCE more Thanksgiving season is upon us. Impossible though it may seem, another whole year, with its joys and sorrows, its pleasures and its pains, its failures and its successes, has slipped away since last we gathered about the Thanksgiving dinner table and ate so much that it became a source of regret to us.

One entire year has gone, and yet how very short a time it really seems since we gazed upon the silent form of our last year's Thanksgiving day turkey, lying there before us calm and quiet, stricken down in an unguarded moment and upholstered with sage dressing while still in life's meridian.

Yes, another year, untrue though it may seem, has indeed stolen by since last we shovled up to our Thanksgiving dinner and filled ourselves with everything from hot gravy to sincere regrets.

Time flies on the wings of the wind. Almost before we know it, a year gets up and sneaks quietly out into the darkness of the irrevocable past, and we are left wondering dumbly whether it has gone. But, though it may be hard for us to realize that another Thanksgiving season is upon us, it is, nevertheless, quite true. The president of the United States has issued his proclamation, and every American farmer has harvested his turkeys.

The turkey crop is a very important one for the farmer. A few weeks before Thanksgiving he begins to throw in an extra amount of feed to them and pay especial attention to the way in which he beds them down for the night. In this way the turkeys become very heavy-set and pussy by Thanksgiving time.

When the day arrives to harvest the crop, however, the farmer often experiences much annoyance. The turkey has some peculiar traits of character. Gifted though she is with a splendid mind and a shrewd intellect, she is, nevertheless, easily confused, and it sometimes takes but very little excitement to get her so agitated that she can hardly think at all. As long as she is undisturbed, and as long as her fine mind finds itself able to cope with her surroundings, she will remain contentedly on the ground, but the moment anything happens to destroy her intellectual poise and make her reason totter from side to side, she immediately flies to the top of the highest tree obtainable, where she steadfastly remains until she can collect in a few of her thoughts and get her giant mind down to a normal degree of temperature.

It is for this reason that the farmer, when he goes out to glean his turkeys, no matter how cautious he may be, nearly always finds it necessary to follow them around from farm to farm and from township to township, clubbing one out of a tree here and scaring another off the top of a barn three or four miles further on before he can finally get them all gathered.

It is no pleasant or easy task to get out on a frosty November morning and hurry like this from neighborhood to neighborhood in a pair of tight boots and with no immediate prospect of success, and so, as we gather about the Thanksgiving table this year and partake of piece after piece of steaming, delicious turkey, let us not forget, in the midst of it all, the humble but fleet-footed farmer who, wearing a large and enthusiastic club and a general air of intense and utter hopelessness, pursued a school of nervous and irrational turkeys around from orchard to woodland and back again in order that our holiday repast might be a most pleasant and dyspeptic success.

Thanksgiving day has always been one of our most delightful and popular holidays. It is the day when we all rest from the swift and relentless pursuit of each other's money, and when families which have been scattered by the ravages of matrimony are reunited for a brief session of joy.

takes that other people have made during the year which has just glided noiselessly into the past, that we can't help being happy.

As a nation, the past year has been a most busy and eventful one. Twice during the year has the safety and security of the nation been pushed into pretty close quarters by the dogs of war. But to-day peace reigns supreme. No enemy, bass drum in hand, threatens the coast of New England, while grim, determined regiments no longer chase each other around through the corn stalk forests of Kansas from three o'clock p. m. till supper time.

A great political campaign, saturated with about as much wild and breathless excitement as a spelling match or an indoor oyster picnic, has thundered its way onto the scene and off again.

The great anthracite coal strike has come and gone. If many of us had been listened to a little earlier, and the five or six million different plans for settling the trouble which we offered had been acted upon at the time when we were each busily engaged in trying to get somebody to listen to us, the strike, perhaps, might not have lasted quite so long. But it is over now, and the fact that, amid the general chaos and confusion, our voice, through some mistake, was entirely overlooked, need not necessarily cause any of us to lose interest in our Thanksgiving festivities. It is not the first time that many of us have, during a crisis, arisen to the occasion, and then failed to catch the eye or ear of the speaker, and it may not be the last time.

During the year the crops have been quite good throughout the United States. In Missouri, Nebraska, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Sulu, Indiana, Minnesota, Texas and Bing Bang about everything has turned out nicely, although we regret to state that in one or two instances a cut worm was caught doing his worst. The wheat crop seems to have met with approbation everywhere, while the oats yield has made a most favorable public impression. Our crop of potatoes, cucumbers, cucumbers, smoking tobacco, little-necked squashes, artichokes and palm-leaf fans was gratifying to behold.

The gourds, especially the pints, two pints and half-gallons, did not yield very well, owing to the fact that many farmers received false information in regard to the condition of the moon and put out the seed at the wrong time. Live stock men around Sitka had good success with their seals, and an extra section of turkey may be eaten on account of the exemplary yield of our wormless prunes and our Ben Davis pineapples.

During the year just passed two official royal guests, Prince Henry of Prussia and the crown prince of Siam, visited our nation and were given a kindly word of encouragement and a hearty salutation of good cheer wherever they went. This shows a most gratifying trait of character possessed by our people, and it should not be forgotten during our Thanksgiving festivities. Here in this country all men are born equal. There is, of course, a slight tendency on the part of a few to doubt the accuracy of this statement, but the great majority of our people are willing to accept it as true. But, notwithstanding this fact, we are still not too proud and arrogant to receive with hospitality any person who, though born of royal blood, may come over here and try to live it down for the time being.

And so as we convene about the Thanksgiving table this year let us think of all these things. As we gaze upon the turkey let us remember the farmer who patiently followed it around over the neighborhood until he finally succeeded in gathering it to his bosom with the aid of a fence rail and a rapid flow of words. And, then, as we slide piece after piece under our vest, let us remember with joy how we have gone on from day to day throughout the year, doing things up in a rich and beautiful shade of brown while those about us on every hand have continued to err as rapidly as possible.

As we pass up our plate again and again, and as we allow ourselves to be assisted to first one thing and then another in steady succession let us try to be just as jovial as possible and as full of fun as room will permit. We have noticed that Thanksgiving has almost always been followed by a brief period of unfathomable melancholy and hopeless discouragement. A great many persons have, in fact, noticed the same thing.

This same strange thing may occur again this year. But, still, let us not be troubled over it. Perhaps this foreboding is only the senseless vagary of an imagination that is slightly out of repair.

An Orphan?

A well-known Harvard professor has a bright boy, who one day, at the age of four, appeared in his father's study clasping in his hands a forlorn-looking little chicken, which had strayed from a neighboring incubator.

"Willie," said his father, sternly, "take that chicken back to its mother."

"Ain't dot nuy mudder," answered Willie.

"Well, then, take it back to its father," said the professor, determined to maintain parental authority.

"Ain't dot nuy fader," said the child; "ain't dot anything' but on old lamp!"

CHINESE JOAN OF ARC.

Sieh King King, Who Would Lead Her Sisters Out of Bondage.

A Joan of Arc has arisen to enlighten custom ridden China. Unlike her illustrious prototype, she lends no armed hosts, and the banner she raises is for the reform of social conditions, not the glory of a king. Nevertheless the pagan maiden's patriotism is as heroic and her purpose as noble as that which actuated the Maid of Orleans.

Under the auspices of the Chinese reform movement Sieh King King, an eighteen-year-old Chinese girl, has been leading a crusade among her countrymen and women in San Francisco against the system which keeps the Chinese woman ignorant and makes her a slave.

Sieh King King is the daughter of a liberal minded Tientsin merchant and first lifted her voice in public when she addressed her countrymen in the public garden of Shanghai when it became known that the late Li Hung Chang proposed by a secret treaty to place Manchuria under Russian control.

She came to this country for a university education, but in addition to her studies intends to wage vigorous warfare for the freedom of Chinese women. Chinese women of the better class never mingle with men either at private or public gatherings. Little Sieh King King proposes to change this and put them on terms of social equality.

The lack of education and self confidence, Sieh King King says, makes the Chinese women difficult to handle. She has no trouble in convincing the men, but centuries of subjection and captivity have made the women timid.

The young reformer does not believe in the Chinese practice of clipping women by stunting the natural growth of their feet and will fight for the abolition of this barbarism as well as the other reforms she has inaugurated. Sieh King King lives with her uncle, Tsueh Sing Ying, a San Francisco merchant. She has the support of the best Chinese element in this country in her proposed reforms.

Today the final moves in the Pike-Moffitt maintenance suit will be made.

Had no Sleep—Could Hardly Lie Down.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Permanently Cured Me.

"A year ago I suffered from extreme nervous stomach trouble. I was afraid of everything, could not bear to hear singing or music and reading or hearing of a death nearly brought me down. The back of my head hurt me so badly I nearly went crazy. My shoulders hurt and the least thing I did would bring on an attack of extreme nervousness. There were times when I would have a lump in my throat and my mouth would be so dry I could hardly speak. I was in despair until I began to take Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I have taken in all twelve bottles and consider myself permanently cured. My health and appearance is now what I wished for. I cannot say enough for the Nervine, because in addition to my own case my daughter, who was out of school for a long time because of St. Vitus' dance, was completely cured by eight bottles. She is now feeling fine and going to school every day. We thank you for your kindness and will never stop singing the praises of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine."—Mrs. C. E. Ring, Lima, O.

Constipation

Will Undermine Your Health.

Mull's Grape Tonic Cures Constipation.

When the sewer of a city becomes stopped up, the refuse backs into the streets where it decays and rots, spreading disease-creating germs throughout the entire city. An epidemic of sickness follows. It is the same way when the bowels fail to work. The undigested food backs into the system and there it rots and decays. From this festering mass the blood saps up all the disease germs, and at every heart beat carries them to every tissue, just as the water works of a city forces impure water into every house. The only way to cure a condition like this is to cure the constipation. Pills and the ordinary cathartics will do no good.

MULL'S GRAPE TONIC is a crushed fruit tonic-laxative which permanently cures the affliction. The tonic properties contained in the grape go into every afflicted tissue and make it will quickly restore lost flesh and make it a laxative its action is immediate and positive, gentle and natural. Mull's Grape Tonic is guaranteed or money back.

WON ON HIS RECORD.

Latest Addition to Connecticut's List of Labor Mayors.

Trade union mayors are becoming common in Connecticut towns. The latest is George P. Sullivan, who is also the youngest. At the recent election Mr. Sullivan was chosen mayor of Derby over one of the most prominent business men of that city by a plurality of 205 votes.

Mr. Sullivan is a member of the plumbers' union and influential in the Derby Central Labor union body. Last year the labor element elected Mr. Sullivan alderman. He gained such prominence for his honesty and determination as alderman that this year he was made the candidate for mayor, although it was not thought possible to overcome the large Republican majority in this city. He won with ease, however.

Mr. Sullivan is a native of Derby and is but twenty-eight years old. He received his education in the common schools.

Trained Cats in France.

Trained cats are the latest fad of French society women. Fashion decrees that the animal must be "educated" entirely by its owner and several of the best-known women in Parisian society are giving an hour a day to training their pets.
